Art Unit: 1732

DETAILED ACTION

1. The objection to the disclosure set forth in the previous Office Action (mailed on 13 October 2005) has been overcome and is withdrawn.

2. The new title has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 9-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. In independent claims 9 and 10, the last two lines of each of these claims, the newly-added limitation of "and subjected to said winding in the absence of prebonding of the filaments" is not supported by the originally-filed specification. Page 3, lines 12-22 of the originally-filed specification disclose that the spunlaid material can be wound, but does not positively disclose that the spunlaid material is wound.

Art Unit: 1732

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 9-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Putnam et al (Putnam I; U.S. patent 6,903,034

Art Unit: 1732

B1) in combination with Putnam et al (Putnam II; U.S. Patent 6,321,425 B1) for the reasons of record.

Response to Arguments

8. Applicant's arguments filed on 13 January 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

9. Applicant argues (pages 7-10) that the cited prior art does not disclose or teach winding and unwinding of at least one layer of polymer filaments prior to being subjected to hydroentanglement in the absence of at least the one layer being prebonded, and winding of at least one layer in the absence of prebonding at a tension of less than about 40 N/m. Examiner responds that Putnam I (col. 11, lines 35-38; col. 12, lines 38-44; col. 20, lines 47-67) teaches winding, storing and then unwinding a web of material, and Putnam I and Putnam II teach light thermal bonding, also referred to as cold calendaring, in which at least one layer is provided in the absence of prebonding. With respect to the winding tension, one of ordinary skill in the art would use the appropriate winding tension so as not to damage the web, and the winding tension depends on, for example, the material used for the filaments of the web.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS

Art Unit: 1732

ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
